

Active Learning

The mind is actively engaged

What does this look like:

- Students are dynamic participants in their learning
- Students reflect on and monitor both the process and the result of their learning
- Students make information their own by connecting it to their existing knowledge and experience (Barkley, 2010)