

Greetings from the RPPS School Council,

Please click here for the amazing RPPS School Council January newsletter. It contains key information on:

- Meet your Council and its volunteers
- Book Fair
- 100th anniversary preparations
- Indigenous Learning
- School Directory and more

Some key links and information to highlight:

- Indigenous learning survey. The RPPS School Council has made a commitment to supporting the parent community with Indigenous learning. Part of the School Council budget each year is designated for this purpose. The creation of the School Council land acknowledgement was a first step in the 2020-2021 school year, and this year, Council would like to take this learning further.
 - Click here to complete the survey for RPPS parents to express areas of interest for learning further about Indigenous peoples in Canada.
 - Hold the Date (21 February - 1pm) The Royal Canadian Geographical Society will hold a virtual event to celebrate Indigenous Languages. Stay tuned for more.
- School Directory - last call! Would you like to be able to contact parents in your child's class? A last call to be included in the RPPS directory. You can choose to include phone numbers or email addresses or both. The directory will only be circulated to those who have taken part. Click here to have your child's name / parent contact information included when it is created. Final deadline: 28 January (4 pm)
- RPPS Tulip Naming Contest (24 Jan - 1 Feb). This week kicks off the RPPS tulip naming contest. In homeroom classes, students will be given a tulip colouring sheet to help give our special 100th anniversary tulip a name. The name should be something to represent 100 years of learning, community and history at Rockcliffe Park PS.
